Protests; Russian Publication Offended

WASHINGTON, June 10 — (AP)—Reports from the Judith Coplon espionage trial that the FBI checked on (1) the Russian embassy, (2) a barber at a rocket testing range and (3) a Russian language newspaper, produced protests today from the barber and the paper's editor, and silence from the embassy.

The defense in the case meanwhile served notice that reading of FBI reports that have come into the trial will continue.

One of the reports read to the jury yesterday mentioned 19 confidential informants, all described as reliable, as watching over Communist activities in Washington, including what went on in the Soviet embassy.

"T-19", one of the informants, was identified in the report as a member of the Communist party and a member of the Southern Conference on Human Welfare. ("T-19" called the conference "a transmission belt to reach the masses," and told the FBI "all officers are controlled by the Communist party.")

Another report quoted a "reliable" informant as saying a barber at the White Sands proving ground in New Mexico, where guided missiles are tested, was expected to be able "to get photographs and other information" for transmission to the Russian embassy in Mexico. Barber was identified as Eugenio Chavez, also known as Eugenio Ortiz.

Called Member
The informant described Chavez as a member of the Communist party at Juarez, Mexico, and a resident of El Paso. He worked at the post exchange at White Sands, but was not a government employee, the report said.

In El Paso, Chavez said, "I never spoke on anybody or tried to be a spy." He described himself as a patriotic American who had no idea how his name got into the papers. He said he has left wing sympathies and subscribes to the Communist newspaper, The Daily Worker.

Another report discussed the San Francisco Russian language newspaper Novaya Zarya, published by Gregory T. Soehoff. This report said the FBI had received "numerous unsubstantiated allegations" that the news-

Rep. Hays Begins Battle
To Revive Poll Tax Bills

By G. MILTON KELLY

AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, June 10 —

(AP)—Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-

Ohio) called today for a closed-ranks fight to rescue anti-poll tax legislation shelved temporarily yesterday by a house subcommittee.

Hays said he would ask the house administration committee

Wednesday to override its subcommittee and release quickly either of two anti-poll tax bills.

He said it is not a partisan issue,

and all foes of the restriction should join forces.

"We can take a point of agitation away from the Communists," Hays said, "by giving real representative, democratic government to the states having poll tax laws, and we should pass such a bill at this session if for no other reason, although there are plenty of others."

Eleven votes are needed in the full committee to override the subcommittee, Hays said, adding that he can count 10 of them.

He said he expects one of four doubtful votes in the full committee will back him and provide the needed margin.

Will Support Two Bills

Hays said he will fight for either of two antipoll tax bills

pending. One would abolish payment of poll taxes as a prerequisite for voting in an election.

The other also would apply to voting in primaries.

The Ohioan added that he fears poll tax states might abolish their primary election systems if the second bill were adopted, as a means of partially circumventing

it. He said, however, he would vote for the bill if it is the only one that can be got out of committee.

"I am not going to emphasize the Negro question," he said.

"No one should be deprived of his vote, and I plan to emphasize that twice as many whites as Negroes are disenfranchised by the poll tax laws."

Rep. Marcantonio (ALP-NY),

another poll tax foe, said he also would fight for release of a bill at Wednesday's committee meeting.

Hays, whose grandfather fought in the Confederate army in the Civil war, said his interest in the poll tax fight results from the fact he once resided in Virginia and saw the poll tax work.

Ohio has no such voting requirement.

Abolition of the poll tax is part of President Truman's civil rights program, but he and other opponents of the tax say it can not be a partisan issue because both

Democratic and Republican national conventions went on record against the poll tax in 1948.

Escapee Taken In Ravenswood, W. Va.
After Train Ride

MOUNDSVILLE, W. VA., June 10—(AP)—Gerald Nolan, 19, one of two escaped convicts still at large from the state penitentiary here, was recaptured today at Ravenswood, Warden Orel J. Skeen said.

The warden said he had no other details immediately, other than that Nolan was taken from a Baltimore and Ohio train.

The return of Nolan, a Parkersburg resident serving a 10-year term for grand larceny, to custody left only 23-year-old Eddie Starcher of Roane county still at large among the 14 who escaped from the prison about 2 a. m. last Friday.

The capture of the 13th fugitive today climaxed a three-day search in the general Parkersburg area. Officers flushed him from a hideout near his mother's home Wednesday, but he escaped.

Prison records list Nolan's age as 19, although his mother told police earlier this week he actually is 18. At the same time, she asked police not to shoot her son because he was not vicious and had never used a gun.

Ravenswood Patrolmen Grover Hall and Fred Baer reported that Nolan was taken off a passenger train at the Ravenswood station, and that he offered no resistance. Ravenswood is 125 miles south of Moundsville.

Was Enroute To Huntington
Hall said the fugitive, dressed in civilian clothes, had purchased a railroad ticket at Belleville, about 10 miles north of Ravenswood, and was enroute to Huntington.

State police from the Ripley detachment were called, and they were to return Nolan to Moundsville immediately.

A Belleville resident who saw Nolan buy the train ticket reported him to Parkersburg police as a suspicious person, and officers in that city immediately called Ravenswood authorities.

The search for Starcher has centered around Salem and Akron, O., where he formerly resided, and the general northeastern Ohio sector for the past few days.

Today, however, Pittsburgh police were alerted by a report that a man was seen on a freight train enroute to that city.

A McDonald, Pa., resident said the man was wearing denim with the letter "W" on one leg and what looked like an "H" on the other. Mount Washington police who halted a train near Sheraden, Pa., were unable to find the man, however.

Two railroaders said an earlier train had passed through, carrying a man dressed in blue denim.

Prison records show that Nolan was sentenced in 1945, and first was imprisoned at Pruntytown. He was transferred to the penitentiary in Moundsville December 19, 1946.

Two Are Injured As
Beer Truck Overturns
Two were slightly injured when a loaded beer truck left the road on Route 14, near North Benton, at 6:30 a. m. today, the state highway patrol reported.

The truck overturned and was damaged on both sides.

The driver, Arthur Dombrowski, 30, of Pittsburgh, suffered bruises of the face. A passenger, Albert Niederneyer, 57, of Pittsburgh, had lacerations and abrasions of the head and arms.

They were treated at Central Clinic.

Reports U. S. Divorces
Are Declining Again
NEW YORK, June 10—(INS)—The divorce rate is dropping.

Dr. Leland Foster Wood, secretary of the commission on marriage and the home of the Federal Council of Churches, reported that the crest of the postwar divorce wave has passed.

In 1945, he said, there was one divorce to every three marriages. But, he noted, the rate has now dropped to one for every four and a half marriages.

Coalition Seen To Defeat
Taft; Labor Heads Confer

By CHARLES H. HERROLD

WASHINGTON, June 10 —

(UP)—Union spokesmen disclosed today that organized labor has been holding preliminary talks aimed at joining together—politically—to beat Sen.

Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio when he comes up for re-election next year.

Sen. Taft is the symbol of the labor-hated Taft-Hartley law. Organized labor has made him the

"No. 1 target for 1950" and is out to get him.

To that end, the spokesmen said, some top labor people hope to set up a formal alliance of all the big labor groups. Some of the preliminary talks have been held in Sen. Taft's home bailiwick of Ohio.

Among the principals in the movement for a solid-front "beat Taft" campaign are four nationally-known labor leaders—all residents of Ohio. They are

George Harrison, political director of the AFL League for Political

Education, and Jack Kroll, director of the CIO Political Action committee—both from Sen.

Taft's home city of Cincinnati—

A. F. Whitney of Cleveland, President of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and John Owens of Cambridge, international secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers.

Meets Aides

Kroll is scheduled to meet with his top aides in Chicago today to discuss preparations for the Ohio campaign. And Joseph

Keenan, director of the AFL Political league, is due here today from Ohio, where he has held a week of conferences discussing possible candidates to oppose

Sen. Taft next year.

While union leaders agree that they will have to work together

if they hope to beat Sen. Taft, they face a number of problems of their own.

For one thing, they are far apart on how to proceed. For another, they admit they have different candidates in mind to oppose Sen. Taft. They are aware, spokesmen said, that they eventually must—if they can—unite behind one man who will appeal to farm, city and business voters

as well as labor.

Coal Economics

John L. Lewis has never come closer to calling a spade a spade than in his order to the United Mine Workers to stay off the job for a week, beginning next Monday.

The sense of his statement boils down to this: The supply of coal above ground is very high. This threatens to drive down the high price of coal. If that happened, miners would be in a poor position to ask for higher wage rates and more fringe benefits. Therefore, United Mine Workers will use its collective bargaining power to decrease the supply of coal—"a brief stabilizing period of inaction." This will shrink the supply of coal above ground, especially the supply available to the steel industry with which the union now is negotiating, and hold up the price.

Two things about the Lewis statement deserve attention. One is the fact it says what never has been said by Mr. Lewis before—that the strategy of collective bargaining in the coal industry is to control the supply of coal. The other is the fact that Mr. Lewis has not ordered an indefinite work stoppage but a limited work stoppage of only one week. With no coal mined at all during a protracted strike, the members of the union would collect neither wage rates nor fringe benefits. In that event, he might cripple his union, as he did after World War I.

The work stoppage is a tactic in the struggle over coal economics. It is, significantly, a tactic that some mine operators might like to employ themselves. But if they did, they would be subject to prosecution under the Sherman Anti-Trust act for restraining of trade. The United Mine Workers cannot be prosecuted under the Sherman act. Unions were exempted from the terms of the act by Section 6 of the Clayton act of 1914. Mr. Lewis has almost infinite latitude in his approach to coal economics. The only way he can be reached is through the Taft-Hartley act, which he spurns.

As congress grasps the implications of a work stoppage in coal mines by the decision of a private organization, for the purpose of creating a shortage of coal to hold up prices, it will be even more reluctant that has been so far to disarm the government. The Taft-Hartley act is the only weapon it has for dealing with the kind of national emergency Mr. Lewis and his near-monopoly of coal-mine labor are capable of precipitating whenever the mood strikes them.

To Tell The Time

The referendum of the time issue called for in a house resolution adopted Wednesday would not offer voters a choice between Eastern Standard and Daylight Saving time. It would offer only a yes-or-no choice on a constitutional amendment to make Eastern Standard time mandatory on a statewide basis.

If the amendment were approved by voters, it then would become a violation of the Ohio constitution to use anything but Eastern Standard time anywhere in the state—and that would invite communities now in favor of Daylight Saving time to challenge the state's constitutional authority. In effect, that's what they are doing now, because under statutory law Ohio is on Eastern Standard time.

Those who advocated a referendum on the time issue were not thinking about restricting the question to a yes-or-no vote on the question of making Standard time a part of the state constitution. They were thinking about a popular choice between Standard time and Daylight-Saving time during the summer. Even so, they were aware of the probability that the northern section of Ohio, where Daylight Saving time is popular, wouldn't feel itself bound by a majority vote against Daylight time.

It seems likely that this is one of those questions which can't be answered on a statewide basis; and that any attempt to answer it would be futile. Daylight time is so firmly entrenched in northeastern Ohio that any attempt to outlaw it would end in failure.

Legal Maneuver

It's too soon to tell the purpose of the legal maneuver that has brought Hollywood and stage celebrities into the Judith Coplon trial, but it isn't too soon to guess what's behind it.

Miss Coplon's defense attorney was responsible for getting a confidential report on the celebrities admitted into evidence. He did this over the protest of the prosecution. Even the presiding judge, realizing the probable effect, expressed misgivings.

The report will divert attention from Miss Coplon, who is charged with the crime of being a spy. It lists names of many well known persons and therefore will become a controversy in itself. And worst of all, it will add to confusion in public thinking about the function of the FBI.

The FBI gathers information, which may or may not be used in subsequent legal action against the persons concerned. The information is secret, unless it's revealed in legal action. The information admitted into evidence in the Coplon trial was a report to the FBI—not a report by the FBI. The persons mentioned may or may not be members of the Communist party. In either event, they are not on trial. That is what Miss Coplon's attorney would like a great many people to forget.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, June 11

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

A DAY of "mixed influences," according to the conflicting aspects between major planets. While there are excellent prospects for stabilizing the fortunes, built upon firm, secure and enduring foundations, yet a strange or stubborn state of mind could undermine this promising structure.

Under a drive of mind versus senses and emotions grave errors might be made. And any drastic measures to alleviate adverse conditions by force or experimental tactics could be aggravated the situation. Practical and studied industry could hold the ground.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may encounter a contradictory state of affairs, in which well-laid plans, established jobs or concrete possessions, may be held together by application, determination, shrewd tactics.

Elders, old institutions, could assist. But experiments, departures from orthodox procedures, or rash attempts to take things by storm could devastate well-laid programs. Financial promises, expansion and security are held by firm and routine techniques rather than spurges or extravagant notions. Patience and perseverance might be constructive.

A child born on this day, may have many conflicting adventures, with much promise and clever plans. Such advantages should be preserved by studied efforts, diligence and skill rather than "flash-in-the-pan" tactics.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Tow To Treat A Toxic Goitre

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

HAVING heard of radioactive iodine as a treatment for toxic goiter, many people write to me to ask if this substance is safe.

That is a hard question to answer. Many patients have recently been treated in this way and the results show that radioactive iodine does a good job in getting rid of goiter. However, it must be remembered that we still know too little about any radioactive substance to predict what long-term effects it may have on the body.

In toxic goiter, there is a tremendously increased output of the powerful chemical secreted by the thyroid gland, with the result that all basic activities of the body are over-stimulated. The heart races, the patient becomes nervous, sleeps poorly, and loses weight and strength very rapidly. Before long there may be severe damage to the heart. Sometimes, there is protrusion of the eyeballs. The gland itself, which is located in the neck, may or may not be enlarged.

Removed By Surgery

In the past, most such patients were treated with iodine or a drug known as propylthiouracil until their physical condition improved sufficiently so that they could withstand operation. Then most of the thyroid gland was removed by surgery.

Today, radioactive iodine is being used more and more frequently. In one series of 35 patients, 30 were completely relieved of their symptoms after one or, when necessary, two doses of this substance.

The radioactive iodine is given by mouth in a water solution. The iodine accumulates in the thyroid gland. That part which does not get into the thyroid gland is excreted. The symptoms are usually gone by the end of the second or third month following treatment, at which time,

Vets Get Reprieve
On Rent At Ada, O.

ADA, June 10—(AP)—Student veterans at Ohio Northern university had a temporary reprieve today from a $5 rent hike on the college-owned trailer homes.

Acting President F. Bringle
McIntosh ordered the increase suspended until June 18. He said he had not been told about the raise before it went into effect.

The 72 veterans and their families circulated a petition protesting the rent boost as unfair.
They contended it was not announced in advance and that the trailer homes were not in good enough condition to merit a rent boost. Many said they would refuse to pay.

Don E. Eppley of Bucyrus, a spokesman for one of the three trailer camp groups, said many of the men have children and rent the trailers because they are fairly cheap housing. Some of the wives attend school with their husbands. Few have time to work to add to the family income, Eppley said.

First official announcement of the increase was made yesterday in a letter signed by Leslie A.
Peck, university treasurer.

The letter was dated June 8, but said the rent increase was effective June 1. It also said the veterans, at some future time, would be required to pay for their own utilities, which are now included in the rent.

In announcing the suspension of the rent increase, Dr. McIntosh said the matter would be reviewed by the university's board of trustees at the next meeting June 18.

injustice." He said his paper has not been biased in its presentasubsidy from anyone.

The report dealing with Washington Communist activities mentioned the FBI was able to obtain a copy of a Communist party member's application for employment at the Soviet embassy. One informant said Communists here receive instructions from attaches of the Soviet embassy and the Bulgarian legation.

This report, drafted by FBI

Republicans may try to combat any solid-front labor opposition to Sen. Taft by drafting Sen.
John W. Bricker to run for governor. Sen. Bricker is a powerful vote-getter in Ohio.

Another stumbling block in organized labor's effort to beat Sen.
Taft is lack of unanimity, thus far, of strategy.

Lewis At Odds

This was emphasized this week in John L. Lewis' letter to senate members criticizing AFL President William Green and CIO President Philip Murray for their "foul betrayal of labor" in approving compromise amendments to the administration's bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law.

Informed sources say that Lewis is playing almost a lone hand against the rest of labor to block repeal of the Taft-Hartley this year or in 1950. Lewis reportedly has decided that Sen.
Taft's name must be kept on any law which requires filing of non-Communist affidavits by union leaders and provides for injunctions to break national emergency strikes or interfere with other union activities.

He is said to feel that President
Truman is playing right into Sen.
Taft's hands by backing an administration bill which would permit government seizure of plants in national emergency strikes. Lewis does not want the major features of the Taft-Hartley bill under another name because he fears the campaign to beat Sen. Taft would be lost.

But the AFL and CIO believe they can swing enough votes in Ohio to beat Sen. Taft—whether or not his name is on the labor bill. Their leaders will continue all-out efforts to get a compromise repealer through this congress.

Leetonia To Build Baseball Diamond

LEETONIA, June 10—A baseball diamond will be constructed in Leetonia, according to plans announced today by Les Morris, commander of the American Legion, Joe Williams post, which is backing the project. Much interest and discussion has been placed on a ball diamond in the village since spring when the high school fielded its first baseball team in a decade.

The Legion post is sponsoring an entry in the Legion junior baseball league for the first time this year. In order to give the boys a home field and practice field negotiations are nearing completion for a 13-acre tract on the Roose property north of the business section.

Bulldozers and other field equipment are expected to start operations on the field within the next two weeks, according to Morris. Grass will be planted and Legion spokesmen expect the field to be ready for full use by the end of the summer.

Pat Tortora and Mussie Salvino are coaches of the Legion team with 25 youths vying for positions on the squad. In the one contest held this season, Leetonia dropped a 5-1 decision to the East Palestine entry. They will meet Hanoverton there on Friday evening. Pitchers on the team are Bob Holt, Jim Aiken and Sam Tingle. The team is playing other squads in the county league and will enter the Tri-state tourney in August.

Shrink-Proof Ice Cream Now Offered by Scientists

SAN FRANCISCO—You'll be able to buy shrink-proof ice cream soon, University of California scientists report.

When ice cream becomes too warm during storage or delivery, or when moving between different altitudes, it loses air and shrinks in volume.

But two chemists from the university's college of agriculture believe they have found the proper pressure and temperature for manufacture which will produce the least loss.

Simplicity and dignity characterize the chapel which has a seating capacity of only 20 persons. The only light from the outside filters through two translucent, leaded glass windows.

"There is no simple method of killing Canada thistles, but 2,4-D sprays make controlling it a lot easier than before," says C. J. Willard of the Department of Agronomy of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station.

Canada thistle tops will be killed by 2,4-D at one pound acid equivalent per acre or more, but the roots will not be killed.

However, continues the weed control specialist, this rate does not kill bluegrass in a pasture, so 2,4-D makes it possible to kill thistles in a pasture and leave the grass. Two or three applications a year for three years will kill out most pasture thistle patches. All clover in the pasture will be killed by this treatment. The first application should be made as the thistles come in bud or very early bloom.

Texas and Ohio poultry specialists will be featured speakers at the 29th annual Poultry Day event of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station, Wooster, on June 16, announces D. C. Kennard, associate chairman of the Department of Poultry Science.

"When ensiled in mixtures most meadow crops at the right stage make better silages than when ensiled alone," says Charles F. Rogers, of the Department of Agronomy of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. These crops are at their best stage of development for ensiling when the legumes have just begun to bloom.

Almost any meadow mixture will make good silage if harvested at the right time, and put into the silo in the right condition. Alfalfa and timothy in any combination or alfalfa and brome grass, or alfalfa-clover-timothy mixtures are all good. Ladino clover grown with timothy or bluegrass makes good silage also.

Animals seem to like silages from mixed crops because the mixtures have pleasing flavors easier to get in silages of mixed crops than when only one crop goes into the silo, Rogers concludes.

Government May Enter Strike Talk

WASHINGTON, June 10—(UP)—The government will act early next week to head off a threatened strike which would tie up the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, informed sources said today.

The strike has been called by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. Union officials have set a strike date but have refused to make it public.

Officials of the National Mediation board, which handles railroad labor disputes, said a federal mediator will intervene in the C. & O. dispute "early next week."

They said President Truman will be asked to invoke the Railway Labor act if no progress is made in government-sponsored negotiations.

The dispute between the railroad and the firemen's union grew out of some 600 unsettled grievances, involving back pay claims and working conditions. General wages are not at issue.

The C. & O. is the largest coal-hauling railroad in the country. Its freight and passenger operations extend into six states and the District of Columbia.

Calls for police may now be quickly relayed by radio to the patrolman on duty, as the village's cruiser is also equipped two-way radio operating on the same frequency as the sheriff's two-way hook-up.

Blake Continues Liquor Dept. Feud

COLUMBUS, June 10—(UP)—Sen. Arthur Blake (D) of Belmont continued his feud with the state liquor department Thursday by introducing a joint resolution in the senate asking for an investigation of department activities.

Sen. Blake was co-author of a bill introduced Wednesday that would take all liquor inspectors from under protection of civil service.

The joint resolution submitted by the Martins Ferry legislator calls for creation of a nine-member commission to investigate all activities of the state liquor department.

Sen. Blake last week accused state liquor agents of "Gestapo" tactics following the citing of two Belmont county private clubs for selling to non-members. The clubs admitted the violations and now are under 30-day suspensions of their permits.

ANTIQUE AUTOS ARE RARE THINGS, VALUABLE, TOO

TOLEDO, June 10—(AP)—Don't call that jalopy a rattle-trap—if it doesn't rattle. It's an "antique."

So insist 15 Toledoans who collect ancient automobiles for a hobby. All who join this fraternity must have cars 25 years old or older. The 1921 Cadillac of one member is considered modern.

A gem, owned by Brothers Robert and Gordon A. Blaine, is a 1905 Pope-Toledo, one of the few models turned out in the short life of the Pope Motor Car Co. (1902-7).

The Blaines know of only two others still around. They bought their Pope-Toledo in 1946 in the settling of a farm estate near Brunersburg, O.

They found it in the corner of a barn. It's almost as good as new: The farmer had bought it new and, losing faith in the automobile age, in 1910 stored it in the barn. It remained there until the Blaines arrived.

Has Unusual Features

It has many unusual features. For example, copper jackets are on the cylinders; the intake oil valve is automatic, and there's a reserve gasoline tank.

The Pope originally sold for about $3,500. It was geared for 60 miles an hour, and probably still could make that. However, the Blaines don't wish to try.

Like the other Toledo collectors, they consider the antiques much too precious to gallivant about in.

Robert Blaine says: "Most of the fun in this hobby is getting an old wreck and putting it back in shape again. But it's enjoyable, too, to know that you have a bit of American history out in your garage."

Also in the Blaine garage, is a 1910 Brush, known among collectors as the "doctor's car." The Brush has a one-cylinder motor and coil springs.

Another Toledoan, Russell Benore, owns a 1902 MacIntyre.

Literally a horseless carriage, the model was little more than a buggy with a motor when it was first manufactured at Auburn, Ind.

Benore's MacIntyre, which has a two-cylinder engine under the front seat, still can do 20 miles an hour.

Other old models in the Toledo group include a 1912 Abbott-Detroit, a 1910 Buick, a 1907 Sears and a 1908 Reo.

Credit Those Detroit Tigers With Stopping The Yankees

Hustling Outfit Giving Casey Stengel Bad Time; Boston Still In Doldrums

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Credit the Detroit Tigers with stopping the New York Yankee cakewalk in the American league.

With fan attention focused on the St. Louis Cards' sizzling spurt in the National, the hustling Tigers have been giving Casey Stengel a rough time.

Stengel's Yanks took a 6-game lead into Detroit after Sunday's split in St. Louis. Now the margin is 3½ and sinking fast. Red Rolfe's Tigers have won eight of their last 10 games.

Art Houtteman, a young man who nearly lost his life in a serious auto crash at Lakeland, Fla. in spring training time, did the latest job on the Yanks—a six-hit, 9-5, Tiger triumph. It was the Yanks' fourth straight loss, three to Detroit.

Hoots Evers, who was shoved over from center field to left to make room for Rookie Johnny Groth, was a one-man team yesterday. He banged out a triple, double and three singles for five hits, scored three runs and drove in two more.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia A's also closed in on the Yanks, securing third place, five games out of first, by edging the Chicago White Sox, 1-0, in 12 innings. Dick Fowler won a tight duel with Bill Wright on a walk, Luke Appling's two-base error and an infield grounder.

Dick Starr, a non-winner who has lost seven, finally made the victory column, 11-0, as the St. Louis Browns made merry with Ellis Kinder, Chuck Stobbs and Frank Quinn. It was the first shutout thrown by a Browns pitcher this season and the Red Sox's seventh defeat in their last nine games.

Brooklyn clung to that half game lead in the National by subduing Chicago, 9-5, while both St. Louis and Boston won to remain right on the Dodgers' heels. Ralph Branca was unable to stand the prosperity of a 9-0 lead. He was knocked out in the eighth when the Cubs scored five times. The Dodgers wrapped it up early with a six-run blast in the second that routed their old jinx, Lefty Johnny Schmitz.

Howie Pollet, back in his 1946 form, whipped the slumping New York Giants with six hits, 4-1, as the Cardinals made it six straight wins and 15 out of 17. Pollet, with five straight victories, might have hurled the third St. Louis shutout of the series sweep but for an unearned run in the sixth following Eddie Kazak's error.

Bob Hall, a Johnny-come-lately in Billy Southworth's starting rotation, turned back Cincinnati with seven hits as Boston romped home with a 10-2 decision. It was Hall's second start and first since May 20.

Bill Salkeld hit the only homer of the game, in fact the only one of the day in the National.

LESSER KNOWN HAVING BIG TIME IN NATIONAL OPEN

Les Kennedy Leads Way As Big Timers Slip; 82 Scored by Demaret

CHICAGO, June 10—(AP)—The National open golf championship looks like a Tom, Dick and Harry tournament after the first round with Les Kennedy, one of the lesser-known pros, pacing the field with a two-under par 69.

Kennedy, 31-year-old Pawtucket, R. I. shooter, competing in his first open, posted his top ranking score after touring Medinah's treacherous No. 3 course whose par is 36-35-71.

Only five players broke par yesterday in a field of 162 starters in the 49th open tourney. Seven others matched par over the nearly 7,000 yards of hills and heavy woods.

Kennedy, the red haired Rhode Islander, goes to the post for today's second 18-hole round with a one stroke lead.

Back in 1942, Kennedy was rated with Lew Worsham and Johnny Palmer as the three brightest prospects in golf. The last two went on to grab their share of honors, but Kennedy was banged up in an auto accident in which his wife was killed.

Bunched at 70 were a pair of "unknowns" in big time golf, Chuck aFrow of Greensboro, N. C., and Al Broch of aGden City, N. Y., plus two big-namers, Chick Harbert and Herman Baron.

Two lesser-lights also were in the standard 71 bracket — Pete Cooper of Ponte Verde Beach, Fla., and Bus Peelle of Kansas City, Kas.

With them were such illustrious fellows as 53-year-old Bobby Cruickshank, Worsham, the 1947 winner, Palmer, Claude Harmon, the 1948 Masters' titlist, and Ralph Guldahl, former Medinah pro whose feat of taking the open in 1937 and 1938 is still hot-stove talk.

Five were deadlocked at 72, including amateurs Skee Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., and Jimmy McHale, the insurance salesman from Overbrook, Pa., whose 65 at St. Louis in 1947 still stands as the national open's single round record.

Sam Snead dug out of the trees for a 73. Bobby Locke, Lloyd Mangrum and Byron Nelson needed 74. Veteran Gene Sarazen and Cary Middlecoff settled for 75's. Jimmy Demaret staggered in with an 82, his worst round in years.

The forest caused most of the trouble. Demaret and Vic Ghezzi played tag among the oaks on the 580-yard No. 7 for horrendous 8's. hTe super 445-yard dogies of the 13th kicked out another 8 for Chandler Harper.

Amateur Frank Stranahan fell into the also-ran class by equalling Demaret's 82.

Ohioans score:
Billy Burke, Cleveland, 38-38—76.

Denny Shute, Akron, 38-40—78.

A-Tom Strange, Jr., Cincinnati, 40-40—80.

CHINA TAKES OVER NATIONAL LEAGUE FIRST POSITION

Salem China, defending city champions made a serious bid for first round honors in Class A softball Thursday by handing previously undefeated VFW a 5-4 loss to take over first place in the National league.

In other games last night the Amvets won 12-4 over the National Sanitary, Deming remained unbeaten by winning 5-4 over the Jaycees in a nine inning tilt and in the National league the Electric Furnace edged Fishers 3-2 and the Bliss whipped the Lisbon VFW 9-0.

In Class B the Lions defeated Wattersons 14-5 and Bliss won 13-6 over Panthers.

The change in National league standings marks the first time this season that the VFW has been out of first. The China has been a constant threat and made good advantage of its big chance yesterday in meeting the leaders.

Deming maintains a tight hold on the top spot in the American loop, continuing an unbeaten record and apparently still superior to all comers.

No box scores were turned in on yesterday's games.

Forming Softball Team

LEETONIA, June 10—A softball team will be organized Sunday by the Leetonia Sons of Italy in America lodge.

It is one of the first recreational projects for children of the village in the program which includes development of facilities in the building situated next to the lodge hall on Main st.

The softball team roster is open to any boy of the village under 16-years-of-age. Anthony Oliver is the coach and Jack Rose and Dominic Mowery are co-chairmen of the project for the lodge.

Any area softball team coaches or managers representing teams in the same age bracket are invited to contact Oliver, of Center st., for games this summer.

Seventeen boys turned out for the first meeting of the team and more are expected to report for the Sunday session.

Saturday night dances at the lodge hall will be continued through the summer, according to S. I. A. officers. They were started at the first of the year, discontinued during Lent, and resumed following Easter.

U. S. CONCERN EXPRESSED ON TRADE TREATY

State Department Making Arrangements to Deal In Changed Fashion

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER - WASHINGTON, June 10—(AP)—Some American officials were reported concerned today over the negotiation of a five-year trade agreement between Britain and Argentina.

The State department may make representations—that is, file a mild protest—against Britain's signing the pact as it now stands and urge that it be limited to a shorter period than five years.

While a formal American government position on the deal, announced last week, remains to be decided, State department officials cited two main objections to the Anglo-Argentine arrangement from the American point of view:

1. It would have the effect of sharply reducing, if not excluding, United States sales of some important commodities in the Argentine market because Argentine trade would be channeled to England.

2. It would be contrary to the principle of developing freely competitive international trade—to which both Britain and the United States have subscribed—in favor of a virtual barter arrangement.

Officials here are still awaiting a text of the agreement and any American action on it will only be decided after full study of that document. Meanwhile, however, the department's economic experts have asked the British for specific information on various points based on unofficial reports.

Trade Would Balance
According to these reports, annual trade between the two countries under the accord would be balanced at the rate of about $330,000,000 on each side.

The British would get mostly meat, plus some other foodstuffs, from Argentina.

From Britain, Argentina would obtain oil, farm machinery, automobiles and other manufactured goods. It is in these fields that the State department's experts believe the agreement would give British producers an unbeatable advantage over their American competitors.

They say, however, that this is only one angle of the problem and that the American government has to recognize that both Britain and Argentina are now short of dollars with which to buy goods in this country. Moreover, Britain and Argentina have "complementary economies"—each of them produces what the other needs.

For this reason many officials here—outside as well as within the State department—appear inclined to make little objection against a short-term controlled trade system between the two countries, even though they do not like the principle involved.

The thinking behind this is that the dollar shortages of the two countries will eventually be ended. It is argued that almost exclusive British access to the Argentine market for five years would make Argentina so dependent on British goods and replacement parts that American competition in that market might not be possible for an even longer period.

HANOVERTON

Mrs. Donald Keith of Cleveland visited last week with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Pelley.

Arthur Rush of Hollywood, Calif., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rush over the weekend.

Mrs. E. P. Weltner of Akron was a recent caller here.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Holloway of Cleveland visited Mrs. Holloway's mother, Mrs. Harriett Sharp over the weekend.

Rev. and Mrs. Howard Miller and daughter of Rushville, Ind., are visiting their mother, Mrs. Bryda Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Smith and children of Cleveland spent the weekend at their summer home here.

Freight Trains Named Just Like Deluxers

WASHINGTON—Freight trains also have names. While passenger train and Pullman car names are well known, names of freight trains get little attention.

The Association of American Railroads says there are about 1,000 passenger and freight trains with distinctive names.

Some freight trains are called "Vegetable Special," "King Coal" or other imaginative names for their various uses. Some others are named animals, such as the "Blue Goose," "Black Cat," and "Man o' War." The most interesting names, however, such as the "Dirty Shirt," the "Cousin Nelly," "Sally Rand" and "Silk Hat" are fewer in number.

Train names have been given by shippers, travellers and train crewmen, and in many cases their origins have been forgotten.

Globe Playhouse Model Is Built By Student

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—A model of William Shakespeare's famed Globe Playhouse has been built by Edward Alleyn, a student of his plays.

The property lease for the site of the playhouse on the south bank of the Thames River near London Bridge was signed 350 years ago.

To celebrate the anniversary, Alleyn has sent blueprints of the playhouse to leading American colleges so they can reproduce his model.

The Globe was destroyed by fire in 1613 during a performance of Henry VIII. There were no casualties except one man whose breeches caught fire. The blaze was extinguished by a bottle of ale.

3 Husband, Wife Teams Graduate At Mt. Union

ALLIANCE, June 9—Three husband and wife teams were among the 243 seniors graduated at Mount Union college Sunday. One foreign student and one brother and sister also received degrees.

The married couples were Mr. and Mrs. G. R. LeBlanc, Gardner, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sloane, Canfield; and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Clemens, Dover. The Sloanes and Clemens were student marriages. Linton and Marilyn Honaker, R. D. 1, Alliance, were the brother and sister, and Miss Argentina Patino, Republic of Panama, was the foreign student.

U. S. Women Too Bossy, Englishman Observes

ST. PAUL, Minn.—An English visitor told the local press what he thought about American women.

Thomas Cecil Skeffington-Lodge said that, first, they are charming both in dress and appearance, but they wear too much makeup.

"They wear so much cosmetics you don't know whether you are looking at genuine charm or the kind Woolworth sells," he said.

Secondly, Skeffington-Lodge said, American women are "much bossier" than British females.

"In Britain," he said, "the husband is pretty much the head of the house. In America, at least according to my own observation, it is the wife who rules the roost."

Skeffington-Lodge is a member of Parliament from Bedford, England.

Ohio Wesleyan Sets Inauguration Rites

DELAWARE, June 10—(UP)—Ohio Wesleyan university officials today completed plans for welcoming former President Herbert C. Hoover, whose talk Saturday will highlight the most noteworthy graduation program in the university's 107-year history.

Hoover, chairman of the commission for the organization of the executive branch of the federal government, will speak at 3 p. m. Saturday when Dr. Arthur S. Flemming is inaugurated as the ninth president of Ohio Wesleyan. The charge to Dr. Flemming will be delivered by Bishop Herbert Welch, Ohio Wesleyan's chief executive from 1905 to 1916.

The three-day program will end Monday morning with graduation ceremonies at which Gov. Frank J. Lausche will be the speaker. Four hundred and fifty-five seniors are candidates for degrees.

Bishop Francis J. McConnell of New York City, who was a member of the Ohio Wesleyan class of 1894, will give the baccalaureate address Sunday morning.

Others who plan to attend the Ohio Wesleyan ceremonies include Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio; Rep. John M. Vorys (R) of Ohio; and Lowell Thomas, radio commentator, author and lecturer.

NEW MOLECULE UPSETS BASIC CHEMISTRY LAWS

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 10—(AP)—The strangest molecule in chemical history has been found at the General Electric company.

It is a combination of hydrogen and boron, known as decaborane. This substance is not new, but its molecules disobey the fundamental laws of chemistry, and that is why it is so strange.

Chemical miracles have been done largely by use of the law that each kind of atom is able to attach itself to only a fixed number of other atoms.

These attachments are called bonds. They are like spiders' webs, except they are electrical attractions instead of material.

Hydrogen is able to form only one such attachment, boron only three. That is, a hydrogen atom could spin a thread to attach itself to only one other atom—what kind of atom made no difference. Boron atoms could spin three.

In this queer new molecule hydrogen spins two bonds and boron six. That goes contrary to what has been one of the basic laws of the structure of all matter.

The reasons are not known. Nor what new roads to discovery may be opened. It took two years to study to decipher the structure of this decaborane molecule, which is made of 14 hydrogen and 10 boron atoms.

They form a structure shaped somewhat like a child's crib, with the boron atoms forming the cradle and the hydrogen the legs.

The detecting was done with X-rays by an old technique known as diffraction photos. Calculating machines were used almost constantly. The spaces which separated the atoms were in billions of an inch. The study showed this molecule is 30 billionths of an inch long, 16 billionths wide and 10 billionths high.

The research scientists are Doctor David Harker, C. M. Lucht and John S. Kasper, all specializing in the science of crystallography.

At the State theater tonight and Saturday, Zane Grey's thrilling adventure, "Red Canyon," is shown in technicolor starring Ann Blyth, Howard Duff and George Brent.

At the Grand tonight and Saturday, Raymond Walburn and Walter Catlett appear in the laugh picture entitled "Henry, the Rainmaker," and Johnny Mack Brown is shown in the western film, "Law of the West." Chapter 13, "Menace of the Mesa," of the Bruce Gentry serial, also is shown.

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers appear in the singing, dancing, romancing technicolor musical hit entitled, "The Barkleys of Broadway," at the State theater Monday and Tuesday.

An all cartoon carnival show including 17 different color cartoons with favorite characters will be on the all-day show at the State theater, Wednesday.

Tempestuous love, lusty adventures among the big oil wells is portrayed in the technicolor production "Tulsa," starring Susan Hayward, Robert Preston and Pedro Armendariz at the State theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Sergeant York," the famed World War I film with Gary Cooper will be shown at the Grand, Sunday and Monday. Cooper plays the part of a mountain boy, who does not believe in war, but who comes through the conflict famous for his bravery.

At the Grand Tuesday and Wednesday on a double bill, Lon Chaney and Louise Allbritton star in the blood-curdling "Son of Dracula," and Lon Chaney and Bela Lugosi in the thrilling, "The Ghost of Frankenstein."

Burlesque queens crash society in "Ladies of the Chorus," with Adele Jergens and Marilyn Monroe, and Allan "Rocky" Lane displays western skill in "Sheriff of Wichita," at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Also shown is Chapter 14 of the Bruce Gentry serial entitled, "Bruce's Strategy."

Homecoming Queen Strikes Pretty Pose At Leetonia

LEETONIA, June 10—Homecoming Queen Inez Asher smiled her prettiest when she posed for her picture after judges had chosen her for the honor out of 14 contestants.

She is 18 years old and will be a sophomore at Grove City college next fall. There she majors in music and is a member of the Theta Kappa sorority, choir, Shubert club and YWCA.

Miss Asher graduated from Leetonia High school in June, 1948, where she was active in the Y-Teen, choir and Annual staff.

She has brown hair and flashing eyes; is five feet six inches in height, over which is placed 1,920 ounces of beauty. She won a large diamond ring and handsome trophy.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Asher of 245 High st. Her father operates the Flower shop on Main st.

The queen was chosen in person this year. In other years the homecoming royalty was judged by photographs. In other changes this year, a pet show was held with honors going to Carl Early and his pet cocker, "Laddie." A permanent bandstand was constructed under the direction of Paul Otto.

Homecoming officials estimate that more than 5,000 persons visited the Main st. midway during the four-day celebration. Former residents from all over Ohio and nearby states returned to the village for the occasion.

The Community Boosters club and American Legion Joe Williams post, sponsors of the event, already are making plans for a bigger homecoming next year, proceeds of which are used by the two organization in community projects.

Two of America's Most Popular Motor Cars

Pictured above are typical examples of the two smart and separate lines of cars which bear the current imprint of Pontiac goodness—The Streamliner and the Chiefin De Luxe Sedan Coupe.

Each is in such demand that, on its own, it ranks among America's most popular cars today. That two cars of such decidedly different appearance should each enjoy such wide acceptance is easy to explain.

THEY'RE BOTH PONTIAC!

Both offer all the great basic Pontiac virtues. Both are conspicuously beautiful. Both carry the well-known promise of Pontiac quality—long life, dependability, and fine performance. Both afford the smooth, enjoyable performance of Pontiac's two great engines—the power-packed straight eight or its equally famous six-cylinder cooperation. And since both have Pontiac's exclusive Travelux Ride, both are notable for comfort.

And finally, both represent unusual values—a very fine product at a very low price. Either one you choose will make you mighty happy.

Open House At Girl Scout Reservation

Salem Girl Scout council will observe open house Sunday at Camp Merrydale, Girl Scout reservation, on the Secrest road. Mrs. Vaughn Nichols is camp chairman.

The new handcraft cabin, 12 by 18 feet, built of composition siding with an asphalt shingle roof, has been completed. Funds for this building were donated by the Progressive Mothers club. Cupboards, working counters and stools are a gift from the Players club.

The cabin is located to the west, across the stream. The new sleeping cabin, 17 by 24 feet, which will house 12 girls, is also ready for use. It is constructed of the same material as the handcraft cabin.

Members of the Girl Scout leaders association will spend Friday night at the camp, returning to the city Saturday. During their stay they will complete their camp training course. Senior troop 16, of which Mrs. G. A. Boeckling, Miss Margaret Zilavay and Miss Virginia Baillie are leaders, will begin its camp period Monday, June 20.
